JULY NEWSLETTER

JULY CLUB MEETING - July 25th

The July meeting will be special! Bob Ward will demonstrate AVA (financial) and Charles Schwab's new Financial Independence software. If time permits, we hope that Byron Smith will dazzle us with Sideways and PolyWindows.

The July meeting will begin at 6:15 p.m. Thursday, July 25 in Science North (Cal Poly), on the third floor.

JUNE CLUB MEETING

Kudos to Bob Hill, the author of TValuetm, for an excellent program. Bob demonstrated TValuetm, a sophisticated amortization, discount and mathematical software program, and got our highest marks.

CLUB DISKETTES

The Club is ordering diskettes to sell to Club members. Because we have a problem delivering materials, we intend to limit our sales to members at Club meetings. So bring your check book if you are interested. The diskettes should arrive for our August meeting.

MESSAGE, MESSAGE .. WHERE IS THE MESSAGE?

Bob Ward is recording a hidden message in our public domain software. The first club member to find the message and call Bob (546-2943) will get a couple of diskettes and back copies of these wonderful newsletters!

PUBLIC DOMAIN SOFTWARE

Bring your diskettes to the next meeting for an update on our library of public software. If you label your diskettes with your name and telephone, and leave a list of the diskettes you want copied, Bob Ward will see that it gets done. Some service, if you ask me!

See you on the 25th!

Rick
